HAPPY RETIREMENT CINDA

This month we had the chance to bring together past and present members of the VVC family to celebrate Cinda's upcoming retirement after an incredible 43 years at Valley Vet Clinic! Please see the back side for more!

1980 Retirement 2023
— CINDA —

Over the years, Cinda has shown unmatched care and commitment to our farmers, and exemplifies VVC's commitment to excellent service. While we will miss her around the clinic, we wish her the best as she begins her next adventure!

What were your main responsibilities during your time here?

My main responsibilities changed as time went by. Depending on the need in the office or lab – that was where my main responsibility was.

What was VVC like when you started?

It was a mixed practice at that time (small animal & large animal). So between answering phones to schedule sick calls, answering the doctor's on the radio (no cell phones back then), small animal appointments, stocking shelves, waiting on customers, helping in the lab, helping with invoices – it was usually busy. The office was open Monday through Saturday, and I was usually here every day.

How many veterinarians have you worked with during your time here? (Or in Dr. Terry's words, "How many vet's did you put through VVC Bootcamp?")

It's hard to remember them all, but approximately 30 +. All of the vets were good to work with!

What will you miss the most about VVC?

I will miss all of the people I work(ed) with and the customers that stopped in or called, and seeing how the business has grown over the years.

What are you most excited to do during retirement?

I am excited to slow down and enjoy things like visiting with family, working on projects around my house and in my garden, craft projects, reading, and going for walks during the day time.
